Hi John --

I received your "certified mail" envelope today with the two previous letters returned to you undeliverable enclosed (the Nov and Dec 2015 Monthly Progress Reports). I went to the Marengo Post Office and spoke to their supervisor about this. He said the first letter was (attempted) to be delivered on Saturday, 12/19 (office is closed), and then on Thursday, 12/24 (Company Holiday), and then on Jan 4th. He couldn't explain why it wasn't delivered on the last day or why the second letter couldn't be delivered at all (the second letter didn't have any dates on it). He tried to look it up in their system, but it went down, so he couldn't check it for me.

We do not have a receptionist up front in our office so whomever hears the doorbell answers it and handles any mail. We generally have the same mail carrier every day and she knows us. Unless there was substitute carrier and they left us a card which got lost, I can't explain it. Especially twice in a row.

I did note that the large envelope was addressed to "Central Wire" and the two previous envelopes were addressed to "Techalloy Company, Inc" -- same address. The Post Office supervisor said that shouldn't have mattered -- but I find that odd. Everything should now be addressed to Central Wire not Techalloy.

If there is anything else I can do, please let me know.

Regards,

Gerry Ruopp

Hi Gerry,

Here is what the post office sent back on the letter. I did not use the PO Box number. Any ideas?

Thank you John. That is the correct address. But please ensure that it does not include the "PO Box 423" on it. That is no longer active.

Best regards,

Gerry Ruopp

Mr. Ruopp,

Issues with broken sample bottles are being addressed. The EPA approves the February 2016 Monthly Progress Report.

The EPA has had mail returned when addressed to you. The address I have been using is 6509 Olson Road, Union, Illinois 60180. Please advise on what the correct address is. If you have any questions or comments please contact me.
